Shipping Policy: For your convenience, we use the most reliable carriers suitable to your location to deliver your package in the shortest time. Shipping charges are calculated based on your selected method of shipment when placing an order. The method of shipment you choose does not necessarily mean you will receive your order within the specified number of days. Please note that we count from the day we ship and not from the day you place your order. However, we guarantee that we attend to our customers on a first come first serve basis. Please take note that we do not ship on Saturdays, Sundays and Holidays. *We do not ship to P.O boxes, military APO/FPO addresses or particular international locations at this moment. We cannot ship your products until payment is received and verified. Product availability may be affected by this delay. Order will be released after payment has cleared the bank.
